Going to see the Box of Delights at the RSC (Royal Shakespeare Company) was a magical experience.

This was the first time I had been to the RSC and I'd heard this was an amazina place from my family. Upon arrival I was with my school and friends and we all started taking pictures. Inside there was lots of pretty Christmas decorations, it was very ornate. My seat looked upon the play, and the whole audience's seats encapsulated the stage, making you feel immersed into the play. The cross over and the wings really showed the history of the place. In my seat, I didn't have to worry about anyone's head in the way, the positioning was perfect so I could properly engross myself into the atmosphere.

This play was sensational! The actors must have gotten an A*! The range of characters were stunning! The range of accents, personalities and people really made everyone stand out, every character is favourable! The plot is really interesting and keeps you hooked! The effects were next level considering the live action. I had a lot of favourite actors!

I noticed throughout the play there were multiple trapdoors, raising and sliding floors, and aerial acrobats, seeing the actors fly in the air made everyone feel close to the performance!

I really enjoyed this production and would totally recommend this to everyone! This is a family friendly show that all ages would love!

During the first few weeks of the Autumn Term Year 11 and Year 10 were taken to see the RSC's latest production of Macbeth. As a set text for their GCSE's it was great to welcome 200 students along to this experience; and what an experience they had.

The lead role played by Reuben Joseph was executed perfectly (excuse the pun!) His movement on stage was electric and the relationship between him at Lady Macbeth was compelling to watch. Performing the Porter was Alison Peebles, cast wonderfully as the comedic interlude following the murder of King Duncan- or in our production Queen Duncan. The Porter scene was newly written making the jokes current and at times extremely near to the knuckle.

The set was sparse and everyday objects used to connote the growing turmoil of the 'butcher' Macbeth. The aerobatics of the witches made them appear as frightening and captured the very essence of the supernatural. Each witch contorting their bodies in a way only a convincing witch ever could! The most impactful moment for many of the students, was the delivery of Macbeth's famous 'Tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow' speech, touchingly performed on stage with absolute silence from the audience- so we could all drink in the sorrowful end to this once great warrior.

Overall, a fantastic production that was professionally done and a real treat to behold.
