Media

Magazines and Practical Creation of Coursework

Year 10 Spring Half Term 2

Coursework is an essential element of the Media course and contributes to 30% of your overall grade. We will begin the term by studying the set magazine products for the exam which will then inform us how to craft a magazine ourselves. We will analyse the Media Language and Representation of GQ and Pride Magazine and then respond to a brief set by the exam board where you will research, plan and create your own unique magazine.

TUDOR HABITS AND VALUES: In this half term, you will work hard on developing the Positive Self Regulation. The coursework element is both fun and frustrating in equal measures as you have to use your own creativity to fulfil the brief and that requires lots of hard work, attention to detail and your own drive to complete the work to your best ability.

VOCABULARY:

Coverlines, ideology, Star power, Symbolism, Activism
