

LEARNING JOURNEY

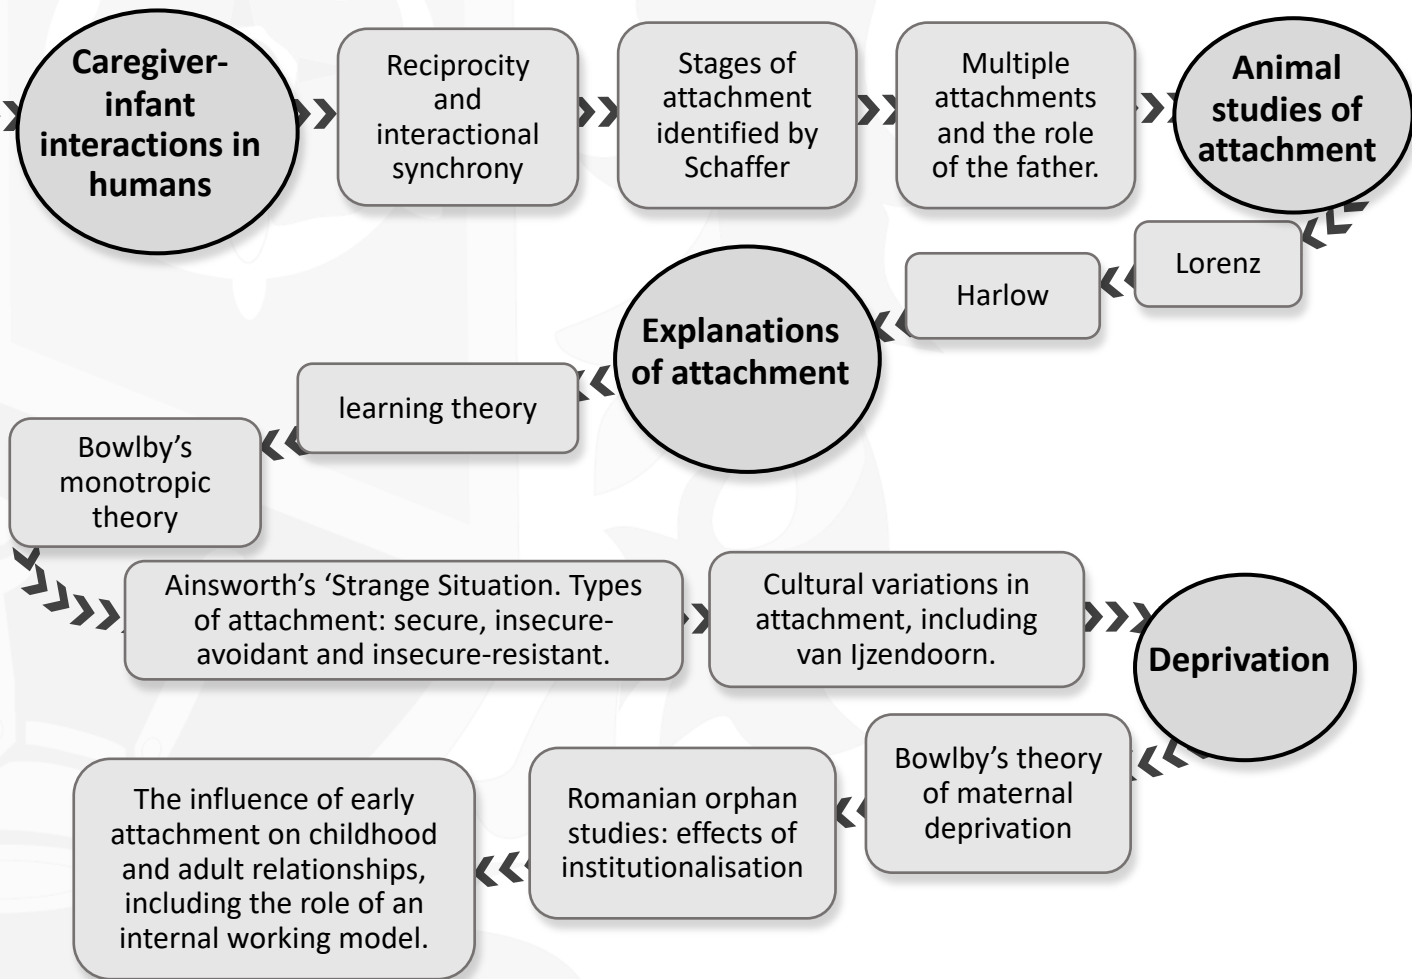

PSYCHOLOGY

Attachment

Year 12 summer term

You will develop your understanding of early experiences and how parenting styles affect infant's short-term and long-term mental health. This will allow you to make synoptic links across psychology with mental health, forensic psychology and other subjects you study (or will study). Our relationships with our primary carers lay the foundations for building blocks that make us unique.

TUDOR HABITS AND VALUES: Developing your empathy for those who may not have had the attachment that you have had. Understanding the wide range of cultural variables that shape who we are as individuals.

VOCABULARY: Survival, deprivation, privation, institutionalisation, Monotropy, internal working model, strange situation, secure attachment, culture, upbringing.
