Media

Practical Creation of Coursework

Year 12 Summer Term

This component synthesises knowledge and understanding of the media theoretical framework gained throughout their course by requiring learners to apply their knowledge and understanding of the media synoptically to practical production. In Components 1 and 2, learners gain a detailed understanding of the theoretical framework in relation to a range of media forms. In this component, learners are required to apply their knowledge and understanding of media language, representation, audiences, media industries and the digitally convergent nature of the media in an individual production for an intended audience.

TUDOR HABITS AND VALUES: Creative

In this half term, you will work hard on developing positive self regulation as you develop your own magazine. The coursework element is both fun and frustrating in equal measures as you have to use your own creativity to fulfil the brief and that requires lots of hard work, attention to detail and your own drive to complete the work to your best ability.
